

SINGLE CASK NATION ROW #6 2024 RELEASE

WHAT'S NEW IN RELEASE 6?

Release 6 sees us returning to Scotland for a full house of interesting and delicious drams. Hailing from Fort William, we've got our first Ben Nevis for the global markets. With a generous finish in a PX sherry hogshead, this one is a rich umami bomb. We've got our first Islay malt for a couple of releases in the form of a delightful Bowmore 11 year old, with the Oloroso Sherry boosting that delicious smoke. The oldest dram in the release comes from Glen Grant at a very respectable 20 years old. This Speysider has matured fully in a Bourbon barrel, allowing the malt to really shine. Speaking of fresh Bourbon we have a tasty drop in a fellower Speyside 15 year old malt from Inchgower distillery. There's also a 9 year old Orkney malt under our 'Stones of Stenness' banner joining our line up. This one has plenty of cracked black pepper and biscuity goodness to keep you pouring! Our final entry is a young Girvan at 9 years old. Not to be underestimated, this grain whisky has plenty of fruity goodness and a lovely oily texture.

TASTING NOTES

BOWMORE
Islay single malt

Colour: Warm honey

Nose: Earthy smoke and instantly warming, overly ripened papaya, window putty, gun powder tea, smokey black currants, oatmeal and brown sugar

Palate: Wonderful viscosity, black cherry soda, dark chocolate coated orange peel, plimsolls, warm oak spice, some stewed prunes, more black currants, gently drying toward the finish...

Finish: Incredible length with dark chocolate, black currants, and lingering yet slightly industrial smoke

GLEN GRANT
Speyside single malt

Colour: Green flecked gold

Nose: Buttery delights from a French patisserie, warm & damp hay, apple butter, smells like a whisky from yesteryear, compote with yellow fruits, summer meadow,

Palate: Delightfully mouth coating, used book store, pipe tobacco, hints of marzipan, beeswax, clean linen, juicy ripe fruits, baked pears, dehydrated apple,

Finish: Pleasantly drying and fruity finish with decent length and hints of cracked grey pepper

BEN NEVIS
Highland single malt

Colour: Burnished copper

Nose: Toasted oak, warm & dusty attic, cherry cordial, bung cloth, wet leather in summer, red currant jam, balsamic glaze,

Palate: Burnt wholewheat toast, earthen floor, smoldering & damp campfire, umami (miso paste?), braised sliced shiitake,

Finish: Long and warming with lingering umami and dark chocolate truffles

INCHGOWER
Speyside single malt

Colour: Oaked Chardonnay

Nose: Damp oak, soaked barley, sweet corn, medicine cabinet, red skin peanuts, crushed fennel seed, horse saddles,

Palate: Soft and round with a definite heft, brown licorice all-sorts, toasted coconut, burnt hay, sweet cereals, diluted molasses/treacle, sugar tuile

Finish: Weighty with buttered malt loaf and lasting brown licorice all-sorts

STONES OF STENNESS
(ORKNEY)

Speyside single malt

Colour: Lightly steeped green tea

Nose: Digestive biscuits, peach juice, wisps of smoke around the edges, almond slivers, white tea and honey, blistered green peppers, hints of fennel seed, and sawn timber

Palate: Rich, oily texture yet a slight pepper-led effervescent tingle on the tongue, warm honey and golden raisins, gentle anise seed, yuzu jam, lemon chews

Finish: Key lime pie leads you into a long finish with oat cakes with cracked black pepper

GIRVAN
Single grain

Colour: Reflective gold

Nose: Tinned fruit cocktail syrup, pear drop sweets, icing sugar, subtle popcorn, warm oatmeal, oatmeal raisin cookies, fresh mandarin peel, fresh timber woodiness

Palate: Heavy, oily texture with sweet oak, lemon sugar cookies, lemongrass & honey, supportive grain behind with pleasantly drying oak

Finish: Medium and drying with lingering oak, warm oatmeal, and boiled peanuts
