

FIVE DECADES IN THE MAKING

Limited to just 100 individually numbered bottles from our oldest reserves, our 50-year-old is carefully crafted by half a century breathing in the climate of our stunning natural surroundings.

LOCH LOMOND 50 YEAR OLD

DISTILLED IN 1973 IN OUR DISTINCTIVE STRAIGHT NECK STILL, THIS INCREDIBLE SPIRIT HAS GONE THROUGH AN UNPARALLELED JOURNEY FOR YOU TO SAVOUR. A LIGHT SPIRIT WITH NOTES OF WHITE FLESH FRUITS AND CRISP CITRUS, A TROPICAL CHARACTER THAT PAYS TESTAMENT TO ITS REMARKABLE AGE.

“
THIS 50 YEAR OLD WHISKY IS A WINDOW INTO THE PAST AND THE VERY BEGINNINGS OF WHISKY MAKING AT THE CURRENT LOCH LOMOND DISTILLERY.

Michael Henry, Master Blender

A HOMAGE TO OUR TIMELESS INNOVATION IN DISTILLING

Since we began production in 1966, ingenuity has always been at the centre of our methods, fuelling our passion for whisky making. What makes us unique is our Straight Neck pot stills - installed during the distillery's founding and key in producing our signature tropical fruit character, encapsulated perfectly in this remarkable single malt whisky.

A whisky this special demanded a presentation to match. In homage to our unique stills, a careful selection of copper finishings and touches have been woven into the design of the display cabinet and decanter.

The natural oak finish nods to Michael's careful selection of casks and the beauty of the surrounding forests of the Trossachs. A 5cl miniature and hardback book also accompany each decanter.

Finally, our most skilled partners have etched and applied the contours of the loch throughout the design, paying deepest respect to the hidden depths of our surroundings, our capabilities and our distillery's history.

The result is a masterpiece of conjoined craftsmanship that commands attention.

CRAFTED BY EXPERT HANDS...

Master Blender, Michael Henry joined the Loch Lomond Distillery in 2007. Our oldest and rarest casks remain exclusively under his personal care, including this remarkable release.

“ Our stills are synonymous with signature fruity notes. The 50 Year Old has been granted the time to truly concentrate that character, resulting in a rich, tropical fruit flavour. The decision to re-cask a whisky of this quality and age is not taken lightly, however the complexity and depth of flavour brought by the first fill Bourbon and the Oloroso sherry casks have made this a truly special single malt.

The expectations are high when you are working with liquid as special and scarce, but it is a true honour to be the final custodian of such a special piece of history. ”
